ON HB3372. I support transparency in reporting. This is going to make ethics reports longer, and it benefits the people who charge money to prepare ethics reports, but it the elected officials vote for it, it's their dime.

Yes. I am in favor of this bill. Credit card contributions are still political campaign contributions. Reporting the receipt of these contributions and the expenses to process the credit card payments is an ethical and good business practice.

Yes. I am in favor of this bill. All forms of financial support for campaigns should be considered political campaign contributions regardless of the payment method used. Reporting the receipt of these contributions and the expenses to process the credit card payments is an ethical and good business practice.

I support HB 3372.

I urge you to pass it out of committee.

This bill is a good example of self-policing. It improves election finance transparency.

Respectfully,

Chris J. Donofrio
