Please support this bill. Trust is imperative in a civil society.

As a taxpayer and 30 year resident of Austin I have seen time & again the bait & switch tactics perpetrated upon Austin & Texas citizens with regard to bonds, bond funding and the continual misrepresentation and lack of factual information allowing special interest groups to manipulate the electorate.

If this bill can begin to stem the partisan antics of any group unwilling to fully expose their plan, motives, funding and its' impact on taxpayers, then, in my opinion, this is a very good start.

Failing to truly inform voters of the fiscal impact of any proposed bond is at best egregious and at worst fraudulent. Any person or group not in support of transparency obviously has something to hide and does not hold the best interests of the citizenry in highest regard.
