AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Current law permits children to accompany their parents to voting stations, but it is unclear whether they may mark ballots under their parents' direction. This ambiguity has raised concerns that voting clerks could prevent parents from allowing their children to participate in this way, denying parents the opportunity to teach their children about the importance of voting as a fundamental right and responsibility.

C.S.S.B. 62 would address this issue by explicitly allowing children younger than 14 accompanying their parents to voting stations to read or mark ballots under their parents' direction. By providing this clarity, the bill would ensure parents could engage their children in the voting process, fostering early civic participation and emphasizing the significance of democratic engagement.

C.S.S.B. 62 amends current law relating to the reading and marking of a ballot by a person occupying a voting station or by the person's child.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
