AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Persons experiencing a psychiatric emergency often turn to hospital emergency departments for help. If a hospital does not have a psychiatric unit, staff search for an open bed at another facility. With a low supply of psychiatric beds in Texas, finding an opening has become difficult, leading to longer wait times in emergency departments that often are not equipped to manage such patients. Currently, 17 states have established psychiatric bed registries. These registries have been reported to improve access to locating available psychiatric beds and reduced wait times.

S.B. 2069 would require the Texas Health and Human Services Commission to establish a workgroup to assess the feasibility and effectiveness of creating a statewide or regional registry of available acute psychiatric beds at inpatient mental health facilities. The workgroup would be comprised of multidisciplinary experts in public health, mental health, technology, substance use, hospital administration, and industry associations.

As proposed, S.B. 2069 amends current law relating to the establishment of a work group to conduct a study on the feasibility of implementing an acute psychiatric bed registry.
