S.R. No. 31

SENATE RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, The Senate of the State of Texas is pleased to recognize February 3, 2025, as 9-1-1 Day at the State Capitol; and

WHEREAS, 9-1-1 is the nationally recognized number to call in an emergency for immediate help from the police, fire department, or emergency medical services, and public safety communicators are the frontline of our first responders, upon whom the safety and rescue of Texas citizens depends; and

WHEREAS, Public safety telecommunicators provide the vital link between people calling for help and the public safety agencies with which they communicate; the heroic operators serve callers at more than 500 public safety answering points; and

WHEREAS, Public safety telecommunicators are responsible for dispatching essential life-saving teams to the correct location as quickly as possible; the operators must continually learn and adapt to new 9-1-1 technology to meet the needs of the residents of Texas and of the rescue teams; and

WHEREAS, While the Texas chapters of the National Emergency Number Association and the Association of Public Safety Officials represent telecommunicators, directors, planning professionals, and industry service providers, it is crucial that policymakers at all levels of government understand the importance of 9-1-1, the intricacies of the current system,
