Austin, Texas

FISCAL NOTE, 89TH LEGISLATIVE REGULAR SESSION

May 7, 2025

TO: Honorable John T. Smithee, Chair, House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence

FROM: Jerry McGinty, Director, Legislative Budget Board

IN RE: HB1604 by Bucy (relating to public access to criminal proceedings.), Committee Report 1st House, Substituted

No significant fiscal implication to the State is anticipated.

The bill would amend the Code of Criminal Procedure to clarify that magistration proceedings are open to the public. Under the provisions of the bill, courts may provide public access by livestream or videoconference and may impose reasonable limits on in-person access to magistration courts for safety reasons or to prevent overcrowding.

According to the Office of Court Administration (OCA), no significant impact to the state court system is anticipated.

Local Government Impact

Local governments may incur expenses related to providing public access by livestream or videoconference if their courts lack the capability to provide in-person public access to magistration hearings, but the cost cannot be determined due to the number of those entities being unknown.
